☒ Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance

Art Unit: 2764

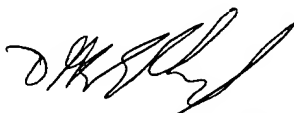

1. The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance:

This application is a CPA type application of an application by the same serial number. It's claims are allowed for the same reasons as its parent application's (which was withdrawn from allowance as basis of this instant application) identical allowed claims. Note that each claim element is specifically interpreted and limited in light of their definition and basis in the specification. As stated in the reasons for allowance of the parent application, the prior art fails to teach or suggest the claimed combination of system components and their interrelationships as found in the independent claims for accomplishing the weather analyzing station device, particularly where local sensed weather parameters are monitored and distant weather conditions are tuned to by radio receiver and an analysis correlating the two sets of data are performed to determine a local predicted weather condition and issue a vocal announcement. The prior art teaches various portions of the weather data gathering, its analysis, and presentation of gathered and analysis data to the user, but not in this particular combination and data interaction operational mode as claimed.

2. Any inquiry touching on the merits of this application concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Donald McElheny, Jr., whose telephone number is (703) 305-3894.

Fax transmissions may be directed to (703) 308-9051.

Any inquiry of a general nature or relating to the status of this application should be directed to the Group receptionist whose telephone number is (703) 305-3900.
